

Palmly: Project Proposal

---

Authors: Katie Nguyen, Sofia Ruiz, Moriah Tolliver

Description

---

Palmly will be a mobile application that allows users to take a picture of their hand and receive a palm reading. The reading will detail likely personality traits, thought patterns, even guessing past events the user may have experienced and predicting future events. Users will be able to navigate through different tabs containing helpful tips and lifestyle advice based on their results. The application will also allow users to save their results as well as post them to Instagram or Facebook.

Justification
